- Fabric
- Embroidery thread

- Embroidery needle
- Scissors
- A template (optional)

1. Prepare your fabric. Cut a piece of fabric that is at least 6 inches (15 cm) square. If you are using a template, trace the template onto the fabric.
 2. Thread your needle. Thread your embroidery needle with a single strand of embroidery thread.
 3. Start stitching. Bring the needle up through the fabric at the center of the flower. Then, insert the needle into the fabric at the point of the first petal.
 4. Stitch the first petal. Bring the needle up through the fabric at the other side of the petal, and then insert the needle into the fabric at the next point.
 5. Continue stitching the petals. Repeat step 4 until you have stitched all of the petals.
 6. Finish the flower. Once you have stitched all of the petals, bring the needle up through the fabric at the center of the flower. Then, tie off the thread and trim the excess.
- Use a variety of thread colors to create different looks.
 - Experiment with different stitch lengths to create different effects.
 - If you are using a template, trace the template onto the fabric with a pencil or washable marker.

- If you are having trouble getting the petals to lay flat, you can use a small amount of glue to hold them in place.
- Once you have mastered the basic fan flower pattern, you can experiment with different variations. For example, you can add a second layer of petals, or you can use a different stitch to create the petals.

Fan flowers are a beautiful and easy-to-make embroidery design that is perfect for beginners. With a little practice, you can create beautiful fan flowers that will add a touch of elegance to any project.
