A Novel of Power, Privilege, and Betrayal at America's Most Elite Boarding School

Anya Petrova is a scholarship student at the elite boarding school Hawthorne Prep, where the rules are different for the wealthy and powerful. When she arrives at the school, she is immediately drawn into a world of privilege and excess. The students at Hawthorne Prep are from some of the richest and most powerful families in the country, and they are accustomed to getting what they want. Anya is determined to fit in, but she soon learns that it will not be easy.

Anya must learn to navigate a treacherous social landscape if she wants to survive at Hawthorne Prep. She must learn how to play the games that the other students play, and she must learn how to hide her true self. Anya is not the only one who is struggling to fit in. She meets Reina Mori, the daughter of a wealthy Japanese businessman, who is also struggling to find her place at the school. Anya and Reina form an unlikely friendship, and they become each other's confidantes. However they must also compete for the same limited places at Stanford, and become academic and social rivals amid the pressure cooker environment.

As Anya gets closer to the other students at Hawthorne Prep, she begins to learn their secrets. She learns about their relationships, their ambitions, and their fears. She also learns about the dark side of the school.

Hawthorne Prep is a place where money and power can buy anything, and where morality is often ignored. Anya must decide if she is willing to sacrifice her own values in order to survive at the school.

Queen of Hawthorne Prep is a novel that explores the themes of power, privilege, and betrayal. It is a story about the lengths that people will go to in order to achieve their goals. It is also a story about the importance of friendship and loyalty. What happens when power and wealth corrupt the soul? Set against the backdrop of America's most elite boarding school, Queen of Hawthorne Prep is a cautionary tale about the dangers of ambition and greed.
